This fund is managed by Crédit Andorrà Asset Management Luxembourg (Management Company)

Objectives and Investment Policy

The investment objective of the Compartment is to seek long term capital appreciation by investing in a portfolio of private equity funds, which in turn focus on private investments in equity or equity rights securities. The Compartment may acquire debt obligations, public or private common and preferred stocks, convertible securities, and any warrants or options. The strategy of the Compartment is growth oriented. This means it may use different types of investment strategies including venture capital; mezzanine; buyout acquisition. Additionally, in order to achieve its objectives, the Compartment may use derivatives to reduce the impact that the market changes might have on the Compartment's performance. The Compartment applies a lock up period of 7 years, which means that you can sell the shares after 7 years from the subscription date. Income remains in the Compartment and is reinvested.

Risk and Reward Profile

This risk and reward indicator illustrates where the Compartment is positioned in terms of its possible risk and reward. The higher the Compartment's position on this scale, the greater the possible reward, but also the greater risk of losing money. This risk indicator is calculated using historical data, which cannot be used as a prediction for the future. Therefore the risk classification may change over time. Even if the Compartment is in the lowest risk class you can lose money, as no investments are entirely risk free. This Compartment is in category 6 since the price changes of the Compartment have been high in the past. The following risks are not fully reflected in the above classification but still influence the Compartment's value. Further information about risk can be found in the investment memorandum which is available at the registered office of Management Company upon request.

Liquidity risk: Some of the assets of the Compartment may become difficult to sell at a certain time and for a reasonable price.

Equity risk: The investment performance of equity securities depends upon factors which are difficult to predict. Equity security values may change in response to the activities of an individual company or in response to general market and/economic conditions.
